

Hi everyone. We are looking forward to welcoming you to English Literature A Level in September.

Attached are a number of different activities to develop your interest and creativity in all things to do with reading and stories and why and how we write them.

Complete the activities in the Introduction to A Level Literature

Read all the openings to the stories in the Story Openings pdf, noticing which ones you like, and which you don't, and considering why.

Complete the 9 different activities on the bingo card in Bingo Activities for the Story Openings.

And of course, don't neglect your own reading - we'd love to hear in September what you've enjoyed, so keep a reading journal, to share with us. I've attached a reading journal with ideas for exploring what you're reading further. For each book you read, choose two of the sections in the journal (A01/2/3/4 or 5) and answer the questions to develop your skills and understanding.

Stay well and safe.

Happy reading and writing.
